GROTON AUTHORITIES TO ENFORCE MOTOR LAWS

Wholesale violations for automobile laws in Groton have resulted in the summoning into court in that town at next Monday's session of more than a dozen motorists on charges of reckless driving and other violations of the statutes. Besides the fatal smashup of Wednesday morning, two other motor accidents have been reported and Captain George O. Vincent of Wednesday issued an order to the effect that it will go hard with any autoists who attempt to make more than 10 miles per hour on the main road, which is allowed by the law between the center of the borough and Eastern Point.

Wednesday morning at 9:30, a government Ford truck, driven by Warren B. Burrows, was stopped by police officers, which was coming south, left the highway at a point near Pleasant valley road, was pitched into rocks and the driver, no one was injured. Major Kingsbury of the marine corps detachment at the base, in reporting the accident to the police, charged that the government vehicle was crowded from the road by a Thomas Coal Co. truck driven by W. C. Hanson.

He is seeking from the Stamford Police Bureau to take up the case with him.

The other accident was staged late Tuesday evening in the Poquonnock section, near the old race track, when a Ford straddling a stone wall was seen. The car had a Rhode Island license plate, and so far as could be learned from residents of the Poquonnock section, its driver, a man from Warwick had abandoned the machine.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU PLANNING FIELD DAY

The New London county farm bureau is planning a field day during the last week in August. A definite date has not yet been set.

A field day committee has been appointed to shape up the plans. There will be sports for old and young, and a demonstration, probably tractor or dairy judging.

With reference to the testing of soil samples by the experiment station, the farm bureau bulletin says:

How many farmers in this county have ever taken the trouble to have samples of soil from their farms tested for fertility requirements? Not so long ago a farmer in another county had two soil samples taken by the county agent. They were sent to the farm bureau office, and the only main finding dividing them. When this farmer received a report on these samples, one field required one and a half tons of lime per acre, while the other required four tons per acre.

This is one of the many ways in which the New London county farm bureau can help the farmer. It is by the desiring of know how much lime to apply per acre should take a sample from five or six different places in the field and send to the farm bureau office. One or two pounds of soil is all that is required so long as it is representative of the field. For obtaining the sample, an old auger is an ideal instrument.

TELLS ROTARIANS OF TRIP TO THE WEST

Dr. Franklin S. Wilcox, superintendent of the Norwich State Hospital who has just returned from an automobile trip across the country, was the principal speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary club held at the Wauregan on Wednesday.

Dr. Wilcox, who was introduced by Joseph N. Weymouth, told of his trip across the continent. The trip took 25 days of traveling and took the party over 4,000 miles of scenic roads. They went first to Pennsylvania where they followed the Lincoln Highway to Chicago. From Chicago they took the Santa Fe trail to Colorado and through Arizona, and New Mexico to California. They went to Pike's Peak, the Petrified Forest and other points of interest were made en route. No mishaps were encountered on the trip although the trip included a hundred mile drive through the American desert.

Dr. Wilcox described in an entertaining way the scenes that interested him the people he met and numerous other incidents.

Following Dr. Wilcox's talk the 30 present extended him a vote of thanks.

Chamber Indorses Inter-Racial Council

Claiming that the practice of choking Americanism down a man's throat will never make loyal citizens, Frank J. Raymond of the Inter-racial council, New York, gave the members of the Norwich chamber of commerce, gathered in an open room at the new building at the Community Center Girls' club hall on Main street, a new phase of the great work now being pushed forward through the country to bring about stabilization of industry.

At the close of Mr. Raymond's highly interesting and most instructive address the chamber of commerce voted to indorse the work of the Inter-racial council. After the meeting members of the chamber are quoted as saying that Mr. Raymond's address was one of the most inspiring addresses heard here this year.

The meeting was presided over by Frederick Charles F. Welch, assistant secretary of the chamber, and opened with a fifteen minute community sing led by Edwin Hill, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. The chamber then turned to the subject of the Inter-racial council and the date and arrangements were left in the hands of a committee to be appointed by the chamber.
